

Home Learning: BBC Bitesize and the DfE

To supplement tasks, activities and work provided by teachers, BBC Bitesize offers 150 new lessons every week to help everyone keep on track with their learning. There are daily lessons for homeschooling in Maths and English for every year group, as well as regular lessons in Science, History, Geography and more. The homeschooling lessons have been created with teachers and other educational experts and feature a mix of videos, animations, practice activities, quizzes, and games. Clicking on the images below will take you directly to BBC Bitesize or you can access the site via our Virtual Enrichment section of the school website.

The Department for Education has also brought together an initial list of online educational resources to help children to learn at home. These websites have been identified by some of the country's leading educational experts and offer a wide range of support and resources for pupils of all ages.

We have recently added information about 'Omegle' and 'preventing online radicalisation'.

Mental Health and Wellbeing

The Anna Freud National Centre for Children and Families has hand-picked a selection of quality-assured, free resources from across the sector. The toolkit includes resources to use with vulnerable children or children with SEND, a resource from Stonewall for the LGBTQ+ community, as well as a resource pack for staff wellbeing and practical activities for adults and children to help stay mentally well. Resources can be found by clicking on the image on the left.

There are also a wide range of resources available on the Wellbeing and Mindfulness section of our school website.

Year 11: Transition to Post-16

CGP have produced some fantastic Head Start books that are an ideal way to bridge the gap between GCSE and A-Level. They recap all the crucial topics pupils will need to remember from GCSE, with study notes and examples, plus practice questions to test understanding, and introductions to some of the key topics that will be met at A-Level. Head Start to A-level Chemistry, Biology, Physics and Maths are all free on Amazon for Kindle – click on the images to take you to the Amazon pages.

There is also a full list of websites that are offering transition materials for lots of post-16 subjects including Psychology, Sociology, Economics and Finance on the Virtual Enrichment section of the school website.
